Helen was born the only child, in Dora, Alabama to James and Magnolia Victoria Blanchard. She attended and graduated from West Virginia Public Schools and continued her education graduating from Bluefield State Teachers College, in Bluefield WV. Her faith was always a major part of her life, which guided her with her family and church. Cooking for family and friends was a pleasure for her all through her life. Being a librarian for a great share of her working life, books were very important to her and she passed her love of books to her children and grandchildren. She brought life, through her gardening and shared with others, its bounty. She won many trophies in Golf and Bowling where she could be with friends. She was united in marriage to Wood Woolery Jr. on November 26, 1961 in Mason City and the two of them enjoyed traveling together. Later her furry friend Pierre filled her life with happiness.

Those thankful in sharing Helen's life include her daughter Holly and her husband Howard Burns of Washington DC.; son Wood and his wife Maria Woolery III, St. Joseph Michigan, grandchildren Jerome Malvin, Maryland; Nancy Malvin, Iowa; Jamiylah Cooper, Pennsylvania, Jason (Karen), and Jeremy Woolery, all of Michigan, and Victoria (Jeffrey Makries) of Texas; along with the great grandchildren Blake, Isabella, Zayden and Raiden.

Her husband on March 11, 2001 and her parents preceded Helen in death.

“ We've thought about you often. I didn't know you passed away until today. My Mom and Dad will be sad to hear that you're gone. You and Woody were a big part of my childhood back in Des Moines. You two were good friends and neighbors to my parents. I'm glad we got to see you on our last visit to Des Moines. Rest in Peace Helen. You were a wonderful Lady. We'll always love you!
