

Alex Parvon-Charles Wiebke

November 20, 1997 - April 10, 2017

Alex Parvon-Charles Wiebke, 19, of Mason City, IA died Monday, April 10, 2017 due to injuries sustained in an accident.

A visitation will be held from 4-8 pm with a special time for classmates and friends between 4-5 pm on Friday, April 14, 2017 at Fullerton Funeral Home, 123 2nd St SE, Mason City. A funeral service will be held at 2:00 pm with a one hour prior visitation on Saturday, April 15, 2017 at Rhythm Church, 21 8th St SE, Mason City, with Pastor Beau Stringer officiating. Burial will follow at Britt Evergreen Cemetery in Britt, IA.

Alex was born on November 20, 1997 to Travis and Julie (Rowley) Wiebke in Dubuque, IA. He grew up in Dubuque until age 9, then moved to Britt/Belmond, IA and attended schools until his family moved to Mason City, where he graduated in 2016.

He was an active member of Rhythm Church in Mason City and also a member of Youth for Christ. Attending church was very important to him. Alex had aspirations of someday becoming a military chaplain but unfortunately he exceeded their maximum height requirement. Alex stood at 7 ft and 3 in tall; which he was extremely proud of. Although he was built to play football, Alex was opposed to hurting anyone. He was described as a “gentle giant,” because of his warm soul and kind heart.

Alex had a very close relationship with his niece, Nehryah and loved to snuggle with her. He also loved his pets: dog, Jantts and cat, Onyx. In his free time he enjoyed bowling and shooting pool. He was an avid Green Bay Packer fan. Alex had a hidden talent of playing his ukulele; which was special to him.

Those left to cherish his memory include his parents, Travis and Julie Wiebke of Mason City; sister, Tori Wiebke and significant other Anthony Holmes and their daughter Nehryah Holmes of Mason City; Aunt, Tracy (James) Wood of Woden, IA; Uncles, Troy (Emily) Wiebke of Mason City and Jeff (Teri) Rowley of Dubuque and numerous other aunts and uncles; grandparents: Tom and Judy Priebe of Dubuque, Diane and Kenneth Picker of Britt, Lewis and Bonnie Dowell of Michan, TX, and Charles and Betsy Wiebke of Dubuque; special buddy Maxx; and many other family members and friends.

He was preceded in death by several great-grandparents; niece, Aryanna Wiebke and nephew, Troy Jr. Wiebke.

In expression of sympathy memorials may be directed to the Alex Wiebke Memorial Fund.

“ Alex was a force to be reckoned with. A force of kindness that knew no boundaries. A force of love that had no end. A force of loyalty that was stronger than steel. A force of warmth that would forever keep out the chill. A force of gentleness that could never do harm. And a force of strength that kept the wrong-doers away. Most of all, he was a force of faith in God who believed in the good of everybody and showed everyone the best of himself at all times. My heart goes out to Alex's parents, Travis and Julie, and his sister for losing a wonderful part of their life. - Michelle and Ryan Woodbury

“ I am seriously going to miss seeing his bright smile and his kindness to everyone he met. He was the sweetest man anyone could meet, and the tallest man too. But he didn't let the height difference stop him from being friends with anyone. He truly will be missed.

“ I'm going to miss hanging Alex.. I'll miss him randomly picking me up to show you're stronger than any other guy. I'll see you again Alex ❤️

“ I think of Alex as a baby crawling after our golden retriever Dana. Even then he was gentle. Another memory is of him covered in mud during a water balloon fight at Murphy Park Family Reunion. Great Grandpa Dowell was proud that he was named Parvon after him.

“ People have been telling me how good of a job I did at raising Alex. Alex has taught me more than I have taught him. He taught me kindness, compassion, courage, and so much more. He was always settled everything with a smile. Even though he could have taken advantage of his size and been a bully, he stuck up for the little guy. One time at a pool tournament I was playing an intoxicated player, at one point he even motioned as if he was going to hit me with the cue ball. Alex looked at me and said " I got your back dad". As cute as it was at the time, he really meant it. After hearing stories from his friends, Alex had alot of people's back. Alex was his own person, he did things his own way. He had his beliefs and nothing anyone said would change his view. Alex was my go to person to do stuff after moving from Dubuqe. There were things he did with me that I know he didn't care for. One of those things is fishing, he would go but he wouldn't touch the bait of fish. Alex had strong belief in God. He would often drive himself to Sunday service by himself. Well he would leave by himself but from stories I heard he was surrounded by loved ones there at Rhythm church. I would like to say thank you again everyone for the thoughts, prayers, and all that the family and cummunity has done for Alex and his family.

“ Alex is my nephew. My brother Travis and his wife Julie called me right before he was born to make sure it as okay to name him Alex since I have a son by the same name. I remember that I was so honored that they were bringing in a new Alex to our family. He brought so much joy to everyone. To me he will always be that sweet little boy with those amazing eyes and smile that could melt your heart. His picture still graces my refrigerator and will until I leave this world.

I still remember when I visited while he was around 8 years and I was amazed at how sweet he was and how he tight he hugged me. Alex had a kindness and spirit that touched many lives in his short time here.

Last year when we went to the water park I was amazed to see how tall he had grown and how gentle he was with the younger cousins. He showed kindness and love to his family and after reading all the posts from his friends, I see that he also showed that to his peers.

My thoughts and prayers are with all that loved him and all the other families that have lost a loved one to this tragic accident.

“ As a customer of the Casey's where Alex worked for awhile I enjoyed interaction with him. He was fun and friendly at check-out. One day I asked him if I called him "Shorty" would he call me "Skinny". He replied, "Sure thing Skinny, have a nice day." So sorry for your loss and praying for you. Ron W
