“ My husband, Rodell Sandy, and Rosie are first cousins. I first met David and his family many years ago at a White family reunion that he and Cherylene hosted at their home. It was a fun gathering. As an in-law, I always enjoyed meeting the family. It was fun to listen to David talk about what he was doing to his house and why, because he knew what he was talking about. I wish all the Stoltenberg family happy memories that will bring comfort.

“ David and I are cousins. I am a year older. When I visited the famil farm where he grew up we would always find mischief. I have memories of us getting in trouble several times and his big smile, in spite of or maybe because of how red his fathers face would get. Some of those memories are in poems and stories I have written over the years. He made a boring life memorable.
