“ Troy was the Love of my life, He was high spirited and stood up for what he believed in. He wrote me a note of love everyday telling me to enjoy my day and gave me inspiration. He also wrote a note to Caid to be a big Boy and do his best. He loved his Family and Friends who cared for him and came to visit weekly. He enjoyed sharing the music he loved so dearly. Thank you All who came to visit and share life with him. He loved you all!

“ Lisa, Caid -- I'm so sorry we can't be there for the services, but know that you're in our hearts and thoughts always, but this week especially. When my mom passed after her long battle with cancer, I remember feeling incredibly grateful that she was no longer in pain. Missing her was also terrible, and never really goes away, but I do think it's much easier than watching her suffer was. I hope you can find comfort in knowing that your love made Troy's final months as good as they could be, and that he isn't in pain any longer...and in the love of family and friends around you now, and those more distant who love you as well. “ Cancer is so limited...
It cannot cripple love.
It cannot shatter hope.
It cannot corrode faith.
It cannot eat away peace.
It cannot destroy confidence.
It cannot kill friendship.
It cannot shut out memories.
It cannot silence courage.
It cannot reduce eternal life.
It cannot quench the Spirit.
